Progress of General Rivera's Rebellion-Ex-Governor Mendez, of Puebla, Reported on the Warpath-"Marquez and Religion" the War Cry-Murder of an Englishman-General Items.

HAVANA, May 25, 1868. The Spanish steamer Marsella from Sisal 22d inst. and Vera Cruz 20th, arrived here to-day. She brings advices from the capital to the 17th.

General Rivera had pronounced against the government and in favor of a new election. He had captured Nicolas near the town of Tlalpam and laid a plot to capture President Juarez while the latter was at the castle of Chaputepec. Since then the castle had been guarded by a force of three hundred men. Moreover, troops, chiefly composed of cavalry, had left the capital to look after General Rivera and his followers. These movements were supported by the people and authorities of Toliman. Generals Cortina and Chavarria denied all complicity with General Rivera in his revolt. The revolutionary movement against the Juarez govern-ment and in favor of the pretensions of General Ortega is undoubtably assuming large proportions. It is headed by General Aureliano Rivera, who is aided by Generals Negrete, Mendez, Jiminez, Çepeda and nine other generals, and by many colonels of the Mexican army. Many partisans of Santa Anna are also joining in the movement. The revolutionists are daily gaining streagth, and they alerady hold possession of the Ajusco mountain regions.

The proclamation of General Aureliano Rivera states that Negrete, Mendez, Cuesta, Cortina and Chavarria are in union. The last two officially deny Rivera's assertions. Rivera has from 700 1,200 men, and was within twelve leagues of the capital. Government has sent 800 men against him; 300 left San Angel on the 5th. Mendez left the capital on the same day, and it was expected that he would pronounce next day at Puebla. President Juarez and family were hurriedly removing from Chapultepec to the capital.

Mr. Perry, an Englishman, had been murdered about half a mile from Vera Cruz. The railway projects before Congress would probably be favorably acted on. A telegraph company had been formed to run a line from Durango via the mountains to Rocallosa, and thence, via Chihuahua, across New Mexico. Two military colonies have been established in Yucatan by the Mexican government. The mountains around Puebla are reported full of revolutionists. Gen. Noriega was at the head of the insurgents. Xichu will follow. The insurgents had taken possession of Rio Verde and murdered the Prefect. On occupying Jalpam the insurgents proclaimed General Marquez as head of the nation with

The fugitive feaders of the late rebellion in Sinaloa had been captured at Tepic and sent to the capital. Señor Vicente Riva Palacio had resigned his posttion as member of the Common Council of Mexico city so as to be able to attend the sessions of Congress as deputy.

Congress had suppressed the office of War Minister. The staff and Second battalion of the engineers of the corps ordered to relieve the troops in Yucatan had arrived at Vera Cruz.

President Juarez had issued a decree ordering the enforcement of the laws and the trial of authorities for breaches of the constitution. Minister Lerdo de Teiada has demanded of the State Governor to report at once all the details relating to the late outrage on some American citizens at Monterey.

The concession to Zangroniz & Co. for the construction of a railroad to the capital via Jalapa had been approved.

The typhus fever was raging terribly at Vera Cruz. At the capital orders had been issued for the troops to remain at their quarters every night. In Mexico city and Vera Cruz numerous arrests were being In San Louis Potosi the courts had been closed owing to the lack of funds for the payment of the employes. Troops had, however, been sent to Rio Verde to put down the insurgents, The town of Cirio had pronounced for Marquez and religion.

In Querétaro, the insurgents had possession of Tolpan and Cadereyte and were threatening San Juan del Rio. The weathiest haciendado near Cuernavaca had been kidnapped by a band of Galvez's men. The latter had joined Negrete's bands in favor of General Ortega's claims. In Tabasco the death sentence pronounced on some of the insurgents had been commuted by the Generals Jiminez, Ocafia and Romero had been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

In Yucatan the engrossing question was the elections to take place on the 24th inst.

AMUSEMENTS.

FRENCH THEATRE.-Notwithstanding the uncertainty of the weather the last representation but one of "Sor Teresa" was fully attended yesterday evening. The public evidently realizes that the few remaining opportunities of admiring the greatest living tragedienne in the two rôles of Sor Teresa and tragedienne in the two rôles of Sor Teresa and Marie Antoinette, rôles so peculiarly favorable for the display of her highest gifts and accomplishments, are altogether too precious to be neglected. "Sor Teresa," with its intensely interesting struggle between the instincts of a mother and the obligations of a nun, will be represented for the last time at the matinée on Wednesday. This evening "Marie Antoinette," with its striking historical tableaux and its thrilling scenes, will be given. Next week will be the last week of Ristori in New York, although it may be hoped that this unrivalled actress may appear at least once more at the French theatre before the 27th of June, for which date Mme. Ristori has taken passage to Europe on the steamer Ville de Paris.

PARK THEATRE, BROOKLYN.—That powerful and popular drama "The Ticket of Leave Man" was pre-popular drama "The Ticket of Leave Man" was presented to the patrons of this admirable little theatre last evening. The house was crowded to repletion. The piece was put upon the stage with a superior combination of talent, and, judging from its reception last evening, will have an extended run. Mr. F. B. Conway as Bob Brierly, though rather robust for that character, proved a very acceptable representative of the well meaning but rather unfortunate Lancashire lad. May Edwards, as personated by Miss Viola Crocker, was excellent, and that total absence of anything pertaining to staginess which characterizes that artist, was never more strikingly apparent. May Saville as Sam Willoughby was the true personation of the careless, arch, yet good-natured urchin; while Mrs. H. Howard as Mrs. Willoughby and Miss Benedict as Emily St. Evremond each sustained their parts in a very pleasing manner. The plece as a whole is one of the best that has been produced at the Park theatre for some time and is well worthy of witnessing.

time and is well worthy of witnessing.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN.—It has been often a subject of wonder to both our citizens and our visitors that the great metropolis lacked lanentably in summer entertainments. Theodore Thomas, who inaugurated the Terrace Garden con certs two years ago, tried to supply this want; but the limited sphere in which he moved in the neighborhood of Third avenue marred all his efforts. Messrs. Appleby & Schindler, however, have constructed on Seventh avenue a most beautiful summer resort, and have engaged the above distinguished conductor and his orchestra of over forty instruments for the entire season. The concert hall is one of the finest in the city and the garden is roomy, well lighted and adorned in the highest style of art. The hotel connected with it presents every desirable feature that can be wished for in such a place, and the management, to judge from the opening last night is entirely satisfactory. The attendance was immense and the concert programme philharmonic in its pretensions. The opening march, written for the occasion by Mr. Thomas, was spirited and effective, and the Rienzi overture one of the best that ever Wagner wrote (it is a pity that he does not write so now; Strauss' charming waits, "An der Schoenen Blauen Donan," Oberon overture, scherzo from the Reformation symphony, by Mendelsohn, and overture "Pique Dona," Suppe, will give an idea of the nature of the programme. One of the most pleasing pleces was the "Ave Maria," by Gounod, for cornet (instead of soprano), solo violina, piano and organ. It was splendfully played and enthusiastically encored, as it deserved. The selections from "La Fille du Régiment" and "Robert le Diable" were the weakest on the bill. No more destrable resort to spend the summer evenings and enjoy first class music could be devised than the Central Park Garden.

PROBABLE LOSS OF TWO AMERICAN VESSELS.—The following letter, dated Union Hall, Leap, Ireland, May 10, had been received by the United States Consul at Queenstown:
"Some portions of week have been brought into this place by the fishermen, and a box containing many letters and books. The letters are directed to J W Chamiller, who appears to have been capitain of the bark Eureka. He belonged to Boston, and was at one time a naval ensign in the United States navy. There is also a picture of a young lady painted at Antwerp, the handsome frame of which is broken, but the painting itself little injured. They came in last evening and the coast guard officers will duly report them. The enclosed document was picked up by one of my servants and given to me. Part of the after rail of a vessel was brought in with the name May painted on it and also a glit American esgle. I fear there may have been a collision. I state these matters at once to you, as there may be anxious inquiries about this vessel. The books and letters and charts are caturated with wet and the coast guards are drying them." (The bark Eureka, Young, sailed on the 8d of May from Cardiff for Singapore and the sech May, Whitny, sailed on the 2sh of Miscollaneous.
